

College Of Southern Nevada, Media Tech Newsletter

September 6, 2021

Hi Everyone,

Week one flew by and here we are in week two. Are you figuring out your classes and Canvas? Canvas has a "Help" button at the left side of the screen. Watch a tutorial or two to get started. You are not the only one who is confused. Remember, slow down, look around at the interface. Click on buttons to see where the links lead. Explore, yep, this is where the fun begins. You will feel comfortable in no time.

I use the Canvas Guides all the time. Take a look and become a Canvas Pro. You can also access the CSN Helpdesk here as well.

Faculty News:

Welcome Jonathan Boarini as our new Media Tech Department Chair!

We have two new tenured faculty members this year, John Aliano and Sean Collett, both from our Videography and Film Program. Congrats, Professors!

Chuck Lohman has hit the 10 year mark in Photography, Bob Benedetto the 15 year mark in the Videography and Film Program, and Mark Olson, 20 years in the Commercial Photography Program!!!

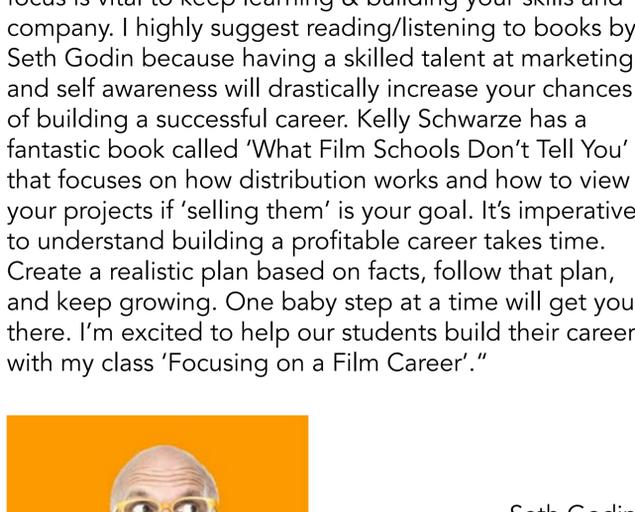

Keep going everyone.

Shane Smith is tutoring on the NLV campus Wednesdays from 9-2 and on the Charleston campus Thursdays from 9-2. If you need help outside of class, he is your guy for photo!

Inspired:

I am constantly inspired by Chase Jarvis and the people he interviews. Last week you watched an interview with Debbie Millman. This week let's explore the Chase Jarvis Live Site. Over the semester I will be sharing more interviews with you that he has created with inspiring people.

Chelsea Crews, one of our adjunct instructors, shared this with us:
"The film and content industry is a great place to build a career one brick at a time (or should I say one follower & client at a time?). Surrounding yourself with your focus is vital to keep learning & building your skills and company. I highly suggest reading/listening to books by Seth Godin because having a skilled talent at marketing and self awareness will drastically increase your chances of building a successful career. Kelly Schwarze has a fantastic book called 'What Film Schools Don't Tell You' that focuses on how distribution works and how to view your projects if 'selling them' is your goal. It's imperative to understand building a profitable career takes time. Create a realistic plan based on facts, follow that plan, and keep growing. One baby step at a time will get you there. I'm excited to help our students build their career with my class 'Focusing on a Film Career'."

Please join us for our 10th Annual CSN Short Film Showcase on Friday, October 8, 2021 at 6:30pm in the Nicholas J. Horn Theatre on the North Las Vegas campus of CSN. There will be a dozen films from our student filmmakers ranging from animation, comedies, documentaries, dramas, and music videos. Following the films prizes will be awarded for outstanding work in the various genres and a Q&A with filmmakers is an experience to witness the next wave of talent in this industry. The Showcase is free and open to the public. For the health and safety of everyone masks are required. Please view the attached flyer for further event information.

Every year Videography & Film works with the Graphics Program and has one of their classes compete among the students to create the annual Showcase poster. This winning mystery noir poster was created by Freddy Calva and captures the spirit of the times.

In addition, students from the College of Southern Nevada's Videography & Film Program received six Student Production Emmy Award nominations and won a Student Production Emmy for "Allure To Darkness" by Director Lourdes Viray. Adjunct Faculty member Kelly Schwarze also won an Emmy for his Public Service Announcement (PSA) "Don't Rush To Flush". In the past seven years the Videography & Film Program is honored to have earned 94 nominations and 45 wins with the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences Pacific Southwest Chapter (NATAS PSW).
